Gurneesh Khurana has recently joined Bajaj Allianz General Insurance as president, where he will be heading the company's motor business.

Khurana will be responsible for the entire automotive business at Bajaj Allianz. His thrust would also be in creating positive customer experience besides defining the portfolio segmentation for future growth.

Prior to this, Khurana, who has an experience of over 24 years, was with General Motors as Director, sales. He spent over 10 years in the company, where his initial responsibility included strategic planning and dealer development. However, he later took over as Director, Sales focusing on revenue, market share and profits.

Khurana has also led the insurance business at General Motors, where he devised and implemented the insurance broker model across India.

Meanwhile, the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (IRDAI) has come up with a draft on premium rates for motor third-party (TP) insurance for the current financial year. The regulator has invited comments from stakeholders.

IRDAI, in the draft, has proposed to bring down the premium for the mandatory third-party insurance on cars with engine capacity of less than 1,000 cc to Rs 1,850. At present, it is Rs 2,055.

The regulator has also proposed to increase the premium on super-bikes.
